

A PLAGUE OF LOCUSTS.
They Devour All Vegetation in a Part of Argentina.

PANAMA, Nov. 13.—The Star and Herald says that the invasion of locusts in the interior of Argentina is the most formidable since 1851. In passing over Rayas, they devoured the sky from morning to night. In one camp they covered an area seven leagues by four, while other clouds gradually covered up the rest of the country, so that the ground was covered to the thistles, which broke down under their weight. In the Parana colony not a single plant remained with leaves. One thousand live locusts were found in a bunch of wheat cleared in a few hours. The insects impeded the progress of the Midland Railway trains, closing the line and the wheels with their bodies. Two engines had to be attached to every train.
